PREFACE.

This edition of the Legislative Manual is published under authority of House Joint Resolution No. 51—Mr. Lowry, adopted at the regular session of the Eightieth General Assembly and which reads as follows:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: That the clerk of the Senate and the clerk of the House of Representatives are hereby authorized and directed to prepare and have printed in book form, bound in cloth, twenty-five hundred copies of a legislative manual, one thousand copies for the use of the Senate and fifteen hundred copies for the use of the House of Representatives. Such clerks shall receive no extra compensation for their services in the preparation of such manual. The supervisor of public printing is authorized and directed to have the manual printed when copy for the same is furnished him by the clerks of the two houses. The manual shall contain the joint rules of the Eightieth General Assembly, the rules of the Senate and the House of Representatives, together with a list of the members and the standing committees of each house, all sections of statutes, state and federal, relating in any way to the powers and duties of the General Assembly and such other matter as such clerks may deem appropriate for the information of the members.

OHIO.

Ohio, the seventeenth state of the Union, was admitted to statehood February 19, 1803. The Northwest Territory, from which this State was carved, was established by the "Ordinance of 1787." The first permanent settlement was made at Marietta, in April, 1788. Total area 41,240 square miles (Prof. C. E. Sherman's survey); extreme breadth 230 miles; extreme length, 205 miles; divided into 88 counties; population (census 1910), 4,767,121. Railway mileage: steam, 9,224 miles; single track; electric, 2,746 miles, exclusive of city lines.

GREENVILLE TREATY LINE.

On August 3, 1795, the Greenville Peace Treaty, negotiated with the Indians by General Mad Anthony Wayne, was duly signed, by the terms of which the Greenville Treaty Line was established. It began at the mouth of the Cuyahoga River, ran up that stream to the portage crossing to the Tuscarawas River, down that stream to Fort Lawrence (near the present site of Bolivar, Tuscarawas County); thence westerly to near Loramie, Shelby County (on a branch of the Miami at the beginning of the portage to the St. Marys); thence to Fort Recovery, Mercer County, and thence southwesterly to a point on the Ohio River opposite the mouth of the Kentucky River.

OHIO'S POPULATION.

The population of Ohio, 4,767,121, represents an increase during the last decade of 14.7 per cent., while during the same period continental United States increased 21 per cent.

Ohio has 82 cities, each having a population of 5,000 or more, aggregating a total of 2,467,054, or 51.8 per cent. of its total population.

Ohio ranks eighth in density of population, having an average of 117 persons to the square mile. Cuyahoga county has the highest density, 1,376.7 persons per square mile, while Vinton county, with but 31.8 persons per square mile, has the lowest density.

Of the forty-nine counties which have increased in population, Mahoning shows the largest percentage, 65.6, and Fayette the smallest, 0.1 per cent. The numerical increase was greatest in Cuyahoga, 198,305, and smallest in Fayette, 19.

Thirty-nine counties have decreased in population, ranging from 0.1 per cent. in Lawrence to 17.4 per cent. in Paulding. The numerical decrease was smallest in Lawrence, 46, and largest in Wood, 5,225.

There is a total of 783 incorporated cities and villages in Ohio

COLUMBUS.

The borough of Columbus was incorporated February 10, 1816, and by an act of the General Assembly, passed February 17, 1816, it was made the seat of state government from and after the second Tuesday in October following.

The first session of the General Assembly held in Columbus was convened December 2 of that year.

The seat of Government of Ohio was established at Chillicothe May 7, 1800; at Zanesville October 1, 1810, and at Columbus October 8, 1816.

CAPITOL BUILDING.

The erection of the first Capitol Building in Columbus was begun in 1813, at the juncture of State and High streets, on the southwest corner of the State House Square; it was of brick, seventy-five by fifty feet, and two stories high, surmounted by a spire one hundred and six feet above the ground, in which hung the legislative bell. This building was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, February 1, 1852.

The succeeding sessions of the General Assembly, until the completion of the present Capitol Building, were held, the Senate in the United States Court House and Ambos' Hall, and the House in Neil's Odeon Hall, located on the west side of High street, opposite the Capitol Grounds.

The corner-stone of the present Capitol Building was laid July 4, 1839, and the building completed in 1856; convict labor was largely employed in its construction. The first session of the General Assembly was convened in this building January 5, 1857, at 10 o'clock a. m.

The remains of President Lincoln lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol in Columbus on April 29, 1865, while being transported from Washington to Springfield, Illinois, for burial.

METHOD OF ORGANIZING THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Time of Meeting.

The General Assembly meets biennially on the first Monday of January, at 10 o'clock a. m.; the next meeting being on January 4, 1915.

For the purpose of organizing, a certificate of election from the Board of Deputy State Supervisors of Elections of the proper county, shall be prima facie evidence of the right to membership of the person therein certified to be elected Senator or Representative.

Organization of the Senate.

When the time for organization arrives, the President of the Senate (the Lieutenant Governor), or, in case of his absence or disability, the oldest Senator-elect present, shall take the chair and call the Senators-elect to order in the following form: "This being the day and hour designated by the constitution for convening the General Assembly, and there appearing to be present a sufficient number of the Senators-elect to constitute a quorum of this body, the Senate will be in order."

The convener shall then appoint one of the Senators-elect as Clerk pro tempore, and shall also call the Senatorial Districts in their numerical order, and as they are called the persons claiming to be Senators-elect therefrom shall present their certificates of election and take the oath of office (which is usually administered by a Judge of the Supreme Court).

Organization of the House.

When the time for organization arrives, the Secretary of State, or, in case of his absence or inability, the Auditor of State, shall take the chair in the Hall of the House of Representatives and call the Representatives-elect to order in the following form: "This being the time fixed by the constitution of the state for the meeting of the General Assembly, and there appearing to be present a sufficient number of the members-elect of the House of Representatives to constitute a quorum, the House will come to order."

The convener shall then appoint one of the Representatives-elect as clerk pro tempore and shall also call the counties in alphabetical order, and as they are called the Representatives-elect therefrom shall present their respective certificates of election and take the oath of office (which is usually administered by a Judge of the Supreme Court).

The organization of both branches of the General Assembly having thus been perfected, the respective bodies are ready to proceed to the election of officers.

The Chief Clerk, Journal Clerk, Message Clerk, Sergeant-at-Arms and Second Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of each branch of the General Assembly shall be present and assist in the organization of the next succeeding General Assembly.

(Sec. 39 G. C.)

RULE 42. The yeas and nays shall be called upon the passage of all bills and upon the adoption of all joint resolutions having the force and effect of law, the votes of a majority of all the senators elected being required in each instance, except in emergency bills which must receive the vote of two-thirds of all the senators elected. In emergency bills the yeas and nays must be called separately upon the emergency clause, the votes of two-thirds of all the members elected to the senate, likewise, being necessary for the passage of the emergency clause. (Sec. 9, Art. 2, and Sec. 1-d, Art. 2, Const.)

RULE 43. The yeas and nays shall be called upon the adoption of all resolutions providing for the expenditure of money, and a majority vote of all the Senators elected shall be necessary to the adoption of any such resolution.

RULE 44. The yeas and nays shall be called upon all bills or resolutions granting extra compensation to any officer or employe of the Senate, or for the payment of any claim not provided for by pre-existing law; and no such bill or resolution shall be passed or adopted unless it shall receive the vote of two-thirds of all the senators elected. (Art. 2, Sec. 29, Const.)

RULE 45. The yeas and nays shall be called upon advising and consenting to appointments made by the Governor, the question being, "Shall the Senate advise and consent to the appointment by Governor?" (Sec. 2, Art. VII, Const.)

RULE 46. The yeas and nays shall be called upon the adoption of all resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution, and three-fifths of the votes of all the senators elected shall be necessary to the adoption of such resolution. Sec. 1, Art. XVI, Const.)

RULE 47. The yeas and nays shall be called upon the question of concurring in amendments made by the House of Representatives to all bills or joint resolutions passed by the Senate; and upon agreeing to the report of conference committees.

RULE 48. No person, other than the Clerk and his assistants, shall be permitted at the Clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being taken.

RULE 49. After the roll has been called and before the announcement of the result, any Senator may demand a verification of the vote, when the Clerk shall read, first the names of those Senators voting in the affirmative, then of those voting in the negative, when any Senator on account of error, or for any other reason, may change his vote; but no Senator shall be permitted to change his vote, as recorded, after the roll call has been verified and the result declared.

DECORUM AND DEBATE.

RULE 50. When a Senator desires to address the Senate or to make a motion, he shall arise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President," and the President shall recognize him by announcing "The Senator from———" naming the county; and if the county is represented by more than one Senator the announcement shall be "The Senator from———, Mr. ——."

RULE 51. When two or more Senators seek recognition of the Chair at the same time, the President shall decide which Senator shall speak first.

RULE 52. No Senator shall speak more than twice to the same question except in Committee of the Whole, or by leave of the Senate; and, the Senator speaking shall confine himself to the question under debate, and avoid personalities.

RULE 53. Any Senator while discussing a question may read, or cause to be read, from books, papers, or documents any matter of reasonable length pertinent to the subject under consideration without asking leave. The President shall decide upon the relevancy of the matter thus read and upon the limitation as to length, but his decision shall be subject to appeal.

RULE 54. Any Senator may call for a statement of the pending question, when the President shall re-state the same.

RULE 55. Any Senator may call for a division of the question, and the decision of the President as to its divisibility shall be subject to appeal as in questions of order.

RULE 56. All questions of order shall be decided by the President without debate; such decision shall be subject to appeal to the Senate by any two Senators, on which appeal no Senator shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate; and the President may speak in preference to Senators.

RULE 57. If any Senator, in speaking or otherwise, transgress the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may, call him to order; and the Senator called to order shall take his seat, if required to do so by the President, until the question of order is decided.

RULE 58. If the decision be in favor of a Senator called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise he shall not be permitted to proceed in case any Senator objects, without leave of the Senate.

RULE 59. If a Senator call another to order for words spoken in debate, he shall, if required by the President, reduce to writing the language used by the Senator which is deemed to be out of order.

BILLS.

RULE 60. Bills may be introduced by a Senator, or as the report of a committee in the regular order of business, or at any other time, on leave of the Senate, upon a statement of the object of the bill.

RULE 61. Bills shall be legibly written, typewritten, or printed, and shall bear the name of the author, and must in all respects as to form, comply with the constitution and the rules of the Senate.

RULE 62. Bills shall have noted in their title a distinct reference to the subject or matter to which they relate, and if they propose the amendment or repeal of any law, to the section proposed to be amended or repealed.

RULE 63. In all bills introduced, which seek to amend existing statutes, any new matter contained therein shall be underscored, and when printed, the matter so underscored shall be printed in italics; and when an amendment is sought by the omission or elimination of matter in an existing law, the author shall indicate such omission or elimination by asterisks, and the printer shall follow such indicated marks on copy. No bill shall be sent to the printer by the Clerk which does not conform to these requirements.

RULE 64. Upon the first reading of a bill, and before it is printed, the author may, by leave of the Senate, make correction in the form or phraseology, but after a bill has been read the second time such change must be made in regular form by amendment.

RULE 65. If opposition be made to a bill on the first reading, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be rejected?" If the bill be not rejected, it shall pass to a second reading in the order of proceeding.

RULE 66. All bills shall be read the second time in the order in which they are introduced, and unless made a special order, shall be placed upon the calendar and read the third time in the order in which they are directed to third reading.

RULE 67. On the second reading of a bill the President shall state that it is ready for commitment or engrossment; if no motion or order be made to the contrary, it shall be committed to the Committee of the Whole to be considered in its order; if the bill be ordered to be engrossed, the Senate shall direct on what day it shall be read the third time.

RULE 67a. Any senator may, in any order of business, demand the return to the Senate of any bill or resolution, of which he is the author, from the standing or select committee, to which it has been committed, after fifteen legislative days from the time when said bill or resolution was committed, a report thereon in the meantime not having been made to the Senate; and such demand, when so made, shall constitute the demand of the Senate, and the bill or resolution shall be at once before the Senate, subject to such disposition as shall then be determined upon. Any member of the House of Representatives, being the author of a bill or resolution pending in the Senate, may designate any senator who may act for the purpose of such a demand, but such authority shall be in writing and spread upon the journal of the Senate at the time the demand is made.

RULE 68. House bills when altered or amended by the Senate, shall be engrossed in like manner as Senate bills preparatory to their third reading.

RULE 69. If a question on ordering a bill to be engrossed for a third reading on a particular day be lost, it shall not preclude a motion to order it to be engrossed for a third reading on a different day, unless a division of the question be called for; but if, on such division, the question on engrossing a bill shall fail, the bill shall be considered as lost.

RULE 70. After commitment and report to the Senate, or at any time before its passage, a bill or resolution may be re-committed.

RULE 71. If a bill or resolution be lost, and the vote reconsidered, such bill or resolution shall not thereafter be committed to other than a standing committee, except when it is sought to amend such bill, when it may be committed to a select committee, with instructions for that purpose.

RULE 72. A bill or resolution may be made a special order by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

RULE 73. All bills and resolutions reported by a committee, with recommendation for passage or adoption, or ordered to be read the third time without reference, shall, unless the Senate otherwise order, be placed on the calendar for the second day following their being so reported or ordered.

RULE 74. Bills standing in order for third reading shall be taken up and read without a motion to that effect, and, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, the question shall be "Shall the bill pass?"

RULE 75. When a bill which has been set for third reading on a particular day, shall, for any reason, not be reached on that day, it shall stand for third reading on the first succeeding day when bills for third reading shall be reached in the regular order of business.

RULE 76. When a bill has been ordered for third reading on a particular day, or at a certain hour, it shall not sooner be taken up except upon a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

RULE 77. If a bill be amended before being placed upon the calendar for third reading, the Clerk shall note on the calendar the fact that it has been amended, and shall cite the date when such amendment was made and the page of the Senate or House Journal upon which such amendment appears.

RULE 78. On the passage of all bills making appropriations of money or in concurring in House amendments thereto, a separate vote on any item or items therein shall, on demand of any five Senators, first be had by yeas and nays, and entered upon the Journal; and every such item failing to receive the votes of a majority of all the members elected to the Senate, or of two-thirds of the members elected, if required by the Constitution, shall be stricken from such bill before the vote is taken upon its passage.

RULE 79. When a bill has passed the Senate the Clerk shall read its title and the President shall demand if the Senate agree thereto; and if the Senate is agreed the Clerk shall make out the title accordingly, and certify to the passage of the bill upon the back thereof.

AMENDMENTS.

RULE 80. No motion or proposition upon a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of an amendment.

RULE 81. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed divisible; and a refusal to strike out shall be equivalent to agreeing to the matter in that form, but shall not preclude further amendment by way of addition.

RULE 82. Matter inserted in or stricken from a bill by amendment can not be subsequently stricken from or inserted in a bill by amendment, thus restoring it to its original form, but this result may be reached by reconsideration, if in order.

RULE 83. After a bill has been read the third time it shall not be amended, except by reference to a committee with instructions to amend, which instructions shall embody the amendment or amendments proposed. But it shall be in order to instruct a committee to amend an engrossed bill in any particular.

RULE 84. No bill or resolution shall, at any time, be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therewith any other bill or resolution pending before the Senate.

RESOLUTIONS.

RULE 85. Resolutions may be offered by a Senator in his individual capacity, or as a report of a committee in the regular order of business, or at any regular time on leave of the Senate.

RULE 86. When a joint resolution is offered in the Senate, or upon the reading of a resolution from the House of Representatives, such resolution shall lie over for one day before being considered, unless the Senate decide by a two-thirds vote and without debate, upon its immediate consideration; fixes a future time for its consideration; or refers it to a committee.

RULE 87. No Senate resolution proposing to appropriate money shall be in order; but money appropriated by law for the contingent expenses of either branch of the General Assembly may be disbursed by resolution of such branch. (State vs. Oglevee, 36 O. S. 324.)

PETITIONS AND MEMORALS.

RULE 88. Petitions, memorials or remonstrances may be presented by any Senator, or by a committee in the regular order of business, or on leave at other times, and shall be referred to appropriate committees, upon motion, without putting such motion, unless objection is made, in which case the Senate shall decide.

RULE 89. No petition, memorial or remonstrance shall be printed unless by order of the Senate.

RULE 96. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form: "You who are of the opinion (as the question may be) say 'aye,'" and after the affirmative voice is expressed, "you who are of the contrary opinion say 'no'."

RULE 97. After a motion is stated or read by the President, or read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn, by leave of the Senate, at any time before a decision or amendment.

RULE 98. All questions, whether in the Senate or committee of the whole, except privileged questions, shall be put in the order in which they are made, except that in filling blanks the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

RECESS AND ADJOURNMENT.

RULE 99. The interim between any two sessions of the Senate on the same day shall be termed a recess, and on the re-assembling at the appointed hour any question pending at the time of taking such recess shall be resumed without a motion to that effect; and unless the Senate, shall otherwise order by resolution or motion the hour to which it shall adjourn shall be half past one o'clock p. m. the succeeding day; and the hour to which it shall recess shall be stated in the motion.

RULE 101. A motion to adjourn shall be in order at any time, except while a member is addressing the Senate, or while a vote is being taken, but can not be made except by a Senator who has been recognized by the President; and being decided in the negative shall not again be entertained until some motion, call or order shall have been acted upon.

POSTPONEMENT.

RULE 102. A motion to postpone to a time certain, or indefinitely, being decided, shall not again be allowed at the same stage of the question.

RULE 103. If a motion to indefinitely postpone a bill or resolution be carried, such bill or resolution shall be declared lost.

RULE 104. A bill or resolution postponed to a time certain shall not be considered at an earlier time, except upon the vote of two-thirds of the Senators elected.

PREVIOUS QUESTION.

RULE 105. A motion for the previous question shall be entertained only upon the demand of three Senators. The President shall put the question in this form: "The question is, 'Shall the debate now close?'" and until decided it shall preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn, one motion to take a recess, one motion to lie on the table and one call of the Senate.

RULE 106. All incidental questions, or questions of order, arising after the demand for the previous question is made, shall be decided without debate, and shall not be subject to appeal.

RULE 107. After the demand for the previous question has been sustained no call or motion shall be in order, but the Senate shall be brought to an immediate vote, first upon the pending amendments in the inverse order of their age, and then upon the main question.

RULE 108. Agreement to a motion to reconsider a vote on a main question shall not revive the previous question but the matter shall be subject to amendment and debate.

RECONSIDERATION.

RULE 109. A motion to reconsider a vote may be made only by a senator who voted with the prevailing side, and such motion, to be in order, must be made within the next two calendar days of actual session of the Senate, after such vote was taken, and the same shall take precedence of all other questions except a motion to adjourn.

RULE 110. The vote on any question may be reconsidered by a majority of those voting, a quorum being present, except in case of the failure of a bill or resolution, in which case the motion shall not prevail unless it receive the number of affirmative votes which would be required to pass such bill or resolution.

RULE 111. A motion to reconsider having been decided, shall not again be entertained unless the question has been changed in form by amendment.

RULE 112. Consideration of a motion to reconsider may be postponed to a time certain.

RULE 113. A motion to reconsider action on a bill, joint resolution or other paper that may have gone out of the possession of the senate, shall be entertained if made within the time specified in Rule 109, but such motion shall not be voted on until the bill, joint resolution or paper has been returned to the Senate, when the question on reconsideration shall immediately arise.

RULE 114. When a motion to reconsider is laid upon the table, it shall not carry the bill or resolution with it.

RULE 118. No smoking shall be permitted in the Chamber while the Senate is in session.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

The Clerk shall keep a record of the attendance, during the session, of his assistants and the stenographers, and for each day's absence of any of them, without leave previously having been obtained from the Clerk, shall deduct for such absence the amount of compensation allowed such clerk or stenographer by law or resolution.

RULE 121. The assistant sergeant-at-arms, pages, door-keepers and porters shall report to and be under the direction of the Sergeant-at-Arms, who shall assign their duties and fix their hours of employment; the Sergeant-at-Arms shall keep a record of the attendance of those under his direction and if any of them absents himself from duty without leave of the Sergeant-at-Arms, the latter shall report such absence to the Clerk of the Senate, whose duty it shall be to deduct for each day's absence the amount of compensation allowed such employe by law or resolution.

RULE 122. The use of the Senate Chamber shall not be granted at any time, by resolution or otherwise, for any other than legislative purposes, except by unanimous consent of the Senate.

RULE 123. These rules shall not be altered except after at least one day's notice of the intention of alteration; and no rule shall be suspended, except by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

RULE 124. Cushing's Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies shall be received as authority in all cases not provided for in the Senate rules or the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives.

HIGHWAYS.

The first gravel road extended from Warren, Trumbull County, to Lake Erie, and soon after one was constructed from Cincinnati through Lebanon, Waynesville and Xenia to Springfield.

There were clay turnpikes previously constructed, notably the one from Columbus to Sandusky City, known as the Old Mud Pike, one hundred and six miles in length.

The first canal, The Ohio and Erie Canal, extending from the Ohio River at Cincinnati to Lake Erie at Toledo, was authorized by an act of the legislature, passed February 4, 1825, and, with assistance from the Federal Government, was completed in 1832.

The first railroad was finished in 1836, and extended from Toledo to Adrian, Michigan. This road was built largely by the citizens of Toledo and was operated by horse power during the first year. The Cincinnati and Springfield Railroad, now a portion of the Pennsylvania, and the road between Springfield and Sandusky, now a portion of the Big Four System, were constructed a few years later.

The first steamboat built on Western waters was called The Orleans; it was constructed at Pittsburgh by Robert Fulton, and in the month of December, 1812, made the trip down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans.

A motion to strike out and insert, shall be deemed indivisible.

Questions:
how divided.

87. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form: "Those who are of opinion (as the case may be) say 'aye,'" and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "Those of a contrary opinion say 'no.'" If the speaker doubt, or a division be called for, the House shall divide; those in the affirmative vote of the question first rising from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative and the speaker shall determine by count, announcing the result.

How put.

Who to be counted on

89. When the yeas and nays shall be taken on any question, the clerk shall call the roll of members, and when completed the speaker may order, or any member may demand, that the names of those not voting thereon shall be called. The speaker shall then announce the result of the vote, unless the author of the question being voted upon, requests an additional roll call for members not voting. The speaker shall then announce the vote. Such vote as recorded may be verified.

Yeas and nays
how taken.

90. On the call of the ayes and nays, no member shall be permitted to change his vote, unless he announced the change before the chair announces the result of the vote.

During roll
call.

92. When a motion is made to commit, if more than one committee is suggested, the motion shall be put upon the committees suggested, in the order in which they are named; but a motion to refer to the committee of the Whole, to a standing committee, or to a select committee, shall have precedence in the order here named. A motion to commit may not be reconsidered.

Motions to commit.

93. A motion to postpone to a day certain, or indefinitely, being decided in the negative, shall not be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proceedings.

Substitute bills.

98. Substitutes for bills or resolutions may be offered when such bills or resolutions are being considered by the House. Such substitutes after adoption shall be subject to all the amendments of original bills and resolutions.

Amendments made by committees and adopted by the House, shall be subject to further amendment.

Amendments to titles.

99. Amendments to the title of a bill shall not be in order until after its passage and shall be decided without debate.

QUESTION OF ORDER.

100. All questions of order shall be decided by the speaker without debate; but such decision shall be subject to an appeal to the House by any two members; on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the House, except the member appealing who may speak twice; and the speaker may speak in preference to any other member.

Action after question of order.

101. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed, otherwise, he shall not be permitted to proceed without leave of a majority of the House.

Words objected to must be committed to writing.

102. If a member call another to order for words spoken in debate, he shall (if required by the Speaker or the member called to order) reduce to writing the language used by the member which he deemed out of order.

PREVIOUS QUESTION.

Previous question; how and when put.

103. The previous question shall be in this form: "Shall the debate now close?" It shall be permitted when demanded by five or more members, and must be sustained by a majority vote, and, until decided, shall preclude further debate, and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn, and one motion to lay on table.

No debate nor appeal after previous question.

104. All incidental questions, or questions of order, arising after a motion is made for the previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided without debate, and shall not be subject to appeal.

Action after previous question ordered.

105. On a motion for the previous question, and prior to voting on the same, a call of the House shall be in order; but after the demand for the previous question shall have been sustained, no call shall be in order; and the House shall be brought to an immediate vote—first upon the pending amendments in the inverse order of their age, and then upon the main question.

106. If a motion for the previous question be not sustained, the subject under consideration shall be proceeded with the same as if the motion had not been made. Action when not ordered.

RECONSIDERATION.

107. A motion to reconsider a vote must be made by a member voting with the prevailing side, and such motion, to be in order, must be made within the next two calendar days of actual session of the House, after such vote was taken, and the same shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn. Motion to reconsider; when and by whom.

108. A motion to reconsider may be made affecting a bill or resolution not in possession of the House, but the question shall not be put until the bill or resolution is returned to the House, when the question shall immediately arise, "Shall the vote be reconsidered?" When bill not in possession of House.

109. The vote on any question may be reconsidered by a majority of the members, a quorum being present. When vote may be reconsidered.

110. When a bill or resolution is lost, and the vote is reconsidered, it shall not thereafter be committed to any other than a standing committee. To what committee a bill may be referred on reconsideration.

Visiting news-writers and editors may be allowed, temporarily, the privileges herein mentioned but they must conform to the restrictions prescribed.

OFFICIAL TIME.

The standard of time throughout this State is that of the ninetieth meridian of longitude west from Greenwich, and is known as central standard time. Courts, banks, public offices and legal or official proceedings are regulated thereby: and when, by a law, rule, order or process of any authority, created by or pursuant to law, an act must be performed at or within a prescribed time, it shall be so performed according to such standard of time.

NOTE.—The above does not govern the General Assembly in the election of a United States Senator for the reason that the Federal Statutes provide that such election must be held at 12 o'clock meridian time, which at Columbus, is twenty-eight minutes faster than standard time.

The first newspaper printed northwest of the Ohio River was issued at Cincinnati November 9, 1793, by William Maxwell. It was entitled "The Centinel of the Northwestern Territory," and its motto, "Open to all parties, but influenced by none."

EXTRAORDINARY SESSIONS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

It is notable that there have been but six extraordinary sessions of the General Assembly, viz.:

The Thirty-third Assembly was called by Governor Lucas, June 8, 1835, to take action upon the boundary dispute between the State of Ohio and the Territory of Michigan.

The Sixty-ninth Assembly was called by Governor Campbell, October 14, 1890, to consider the municipal affairs of the city of Cincinnati.

The Seventy-fifth Assembly was called by Governor Nash, August 25, 1902, to take action relative to legislation affecting the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, and to restore government to municipal corporations, of which they were deprived by a Supreme Court decision rendered in June, 1902.

The Seventy-eighth Assembly was called by Governor Harris, January 4, 1909, for the purpose of electing a United States Senator for the term beginning March 4, 1909.

The Eightieth Assembly was called by Governor Cox, January 19, 1914, to consider a number of matters, the most important being school legislation.

It was again called into extraordinary session on July 20, 1914, to consider the reduction of the State tax levy. It adjourned the same day after having passed three bills. It is believed that this session is without a parallel in the history of the nation in the matter of brevity.

STATE MILITIA NOTES.

The Ohio National Guard is maintained jointly by the State of Ohio and the United States government.

The Military Fund is raised by appropriating from the general revenues of the State a sum equal to ten cents for each person who was a resident of the State as shown by the last preceding Federal census.

The State appropriation is divided as follows: "Maintenance Fund" and "State Army Fund." The former is used for expenses of annual camp drill pay and incidental expenses of companies; the latter, for rent, purchase and building of armories.

The Government support is derived from Ohio's apportionment from the $4,000,000 Federal appropriation under the Dick law. This amount is mainly expended for arms, uniforms, equipment and the promotion of rifle practice. Under the provisions of this law at least twenty-five per cent. must be expended for rifle practice.

The National Guard is subject to call of the governor and certain other designated civil authorities to aid in the suppression or prevention of riot or insurrection, and to repel or prevent invasion. It is likewise subject to the call of the President of the United States to repel or prevent invasion and to enforce the laws of the United States.

A person doing military duty under the order of his commanding officer or while going to or returning from the place of duty or parade, is privileged from arrest, except in cases of treason, felony or breach of the peace.

No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been nine Years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their Officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the Absence of the Vice President, or when he shall exercise the Office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting, for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the Members present.

Judgment in Cases of Impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, Trust or Profit under the United States: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF OHIO.

We, the people of the State of Ohio, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, to secure its blessings and promote our common welfare, do establish this constitution.

ARTICLE I.

Bill of Rights.

SEC. 1. All men are, by nature, free and independent, and have certain inalienable rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and seeking and obtaining happiness and safety.

SEC. 2. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for their equal protection and benefit, and they have the right to alter, reform, or abolish the same, whenever they may deem it necessary; and no special privileges or immunities shall ever be granted, that may not be altered, revoked, or repealed by the general assembly.

SEC. 3. The people have the right to assemble together, in a peaceable manner, to consult for their common good; to instruct their representatives; and to petition the general assembly for the redress of grievances.

SEC. 4. The people have the right to bear arms for their defense and security; but standing armies, in time of peace, are dangerous to liberty, and shall not be kept up; and the military shall be in strict subordination to the civil power.

SEC. 5. The right of trial by jury shall be inviolate, except that, in civil cases, laws may be passed to authorize the rendering of a verdict by the concurrence of not less than three-fourths of the jury.

SEC. 6. There shall be no slavery in this state; nor involuntary servitude, unless for the punishment of crime.

SEC. 7. All men have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own conscience. No person shall be compelled to attend, erect, or support any place of worship, or maintain any form of worship, against his consent; and no preference shall be given, by law, to any religious society; nor shall any interference with the rights of conscience be permitted. No religious test shall be required, as a qualification for office, nor shall any person be incompetent to be a witness on account of his religious belief; but nothing herein shall be construed to dispense with oaths and affirmations. Religion, morality, and knowledge, however, being essential to good government, it shall be the duty of the general assembly to pass suitable laws to protect every religious denomination in the peaceable enjoyment of its own mode of public worship, and to encourage schools and the means of instruction.

SEC. 8. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless, in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety require it.

SEC. 9. All persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, except for capital offenses where the proof is evident or the presumption great. Excessive bail shall not be required; nor excessive fines imposed; nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

SEC. 10. Except in cases of impeachment, cases arising in the army and navy, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger, and cases involving offenses for which the penalty provided is less than imprisonment in the penitentiary, no person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous, crime, unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury; and the number of persons necessary to constitute such grand jury and the number thereof necessary to concur in finding such indictment shall be determined by law. In any trial, in any court, the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person and with counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witnesses face to face, and to have compulsory process to procure the attendance of witnesses in his behalf, and a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county in which the offense is alleged to have been committed; but provision may be made by law for the taking of the deposition by the accused or by the state, to be used for or against the accused, of any witness whose attendance can not be had at the trial, always securing to the accused means and the opportunity to be present in person and with counsel at the taking of such deposition, and to examine the witness face to face as fully and in the same manner as if in court. No person shall be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself; but his failure to testify may be considered by the court and jury and may be made the subject of comment by counsel. No person shall be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense.

SEC. 11. Every citizen may freely speak, write, and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of the right; and no law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech, or of the press. In all criminal prosecutions for libel, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury, and if it shall appear to the jury, that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives, and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted.

SEC. 12. No person shall be transported out of the state, for any offense committed within the same; and no conviction shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture of estate.

SEC. 13. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner; nor, in time of war, except in the manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 14. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and possessions, against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched and the person and things to be seized.

SEC. 15. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any civil action, on mesne or final process, unless in cases of fraud.

SEC. 16. All courts shall be open, and every person, for an injury done him in his land, goods, person, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and shall have justice administered without denial or delay. Suits may be brought against the state, in such courts and in such manner, as may be provided by law.

SEC. 17. No hereditary emoluments, honors, or privileges, shall ever be granted or conferred by this state.

SEC. 18. No power of suspending laws shall ever be exercised, except by the general assembly.

SEC. 19. Private property shall ever be held inviolate, but subservient to the public welfare. When taken in time of war or other public exigency, imperatively requiring its immediate seizure or for the purpose of making or repairing roads, which shall be open to the public, without charge, a compensation shall be made to the owner, in money, and in all other cases, where private property shall be taken for public use, a compensation therefor shall first be made in money, or first secured by a deposit of money; and such compensation shall be assessed by a jury, without deduction for benefits to any property of the owner.

SEC. 19a. The amount of damages recoverable by civil action in the courts for death caused by the wrongful act, neglect, or default of another, shall not be limited by law.

SEC. 20. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people; and all powers, not herein delegated, remain with the people.

ARTICLE II.

Legislative.

SEC. 1. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a general assembly consisting of a senate and house of representatives but the people reserve to themselves the power to propose to the general assembly laws and amendments to the constitution, and to adopt or reject the same at the polls on a referendum vote as hereinafter provided. They also reserve the power to adopt or reject any law, section of any law or any item in any law appropriating money passed by the general assembly, except as hereinafter provided; and independent of the general assembly to propose amendments to the constitution and to adopt or reject the same at the polls. The limitations expressed in the constitution, on the power of the general assembly to enact laws, shall be deemed limitations on the power of the people to enact laws.

SEC. 1a. The first aforesaid power reserved by the people is designated the initiative, and the signatures of ten per centum of the electors shall be required upon a petition to propose an amendment to the constitution. When a petition signed by the aforesaid required number of electors, shall have been filed with the secretary of state, and verified as herein provided, proposing an amendment to the constitution, the full text of which shall have been set forth in such petition, the secretary of state shall submit for the approval or rejection of the electors, the proposed amendment, in the manner hereinafter provided, at the next succeeding regular or general election in any year occurring subsequent to ninety days after the filing of such petition. The initiative petitions, above described, shall have printed across the top thereof: "Amendment to the Constitution Proposed by Initiative Petition to be Submitted Directly to the Electors."

SEC. 1b. When at any time, not less than ten days prior to the commencement of any session of the general assembly, there shall have been filed with the secretary of state a petition signed by three per centum of the electors and verified as herein provided, proposing a law, the full text of which shall have been set forth in such petition, the secretary of state shall transmit the same to the general assembly as soon as it convenes. If said proposed law shall be passed by the general assembly, either as petitioned for or in an amended form, it shall be subject to the referendum. If it shall not be passed, or if it shall be passed in an amended form, or if no action shall be taken thereon within four months from the time it is received by the general assembly, it shall be submitted by the secretary of state to the electors for their approval or rejection at the next regular or general election, if such submission shall be demanded by supplementary petition verified as herein provided and signed by not less than three per centum of the electors in addition to those signing the original petition, which supplementary petition must be signed and filed with the secretary of state within ninety days after the proposed law shall have been rejected by the general assembly or after the expiration of such term of four months, if no action has been taken thereon, or after the law as passed by the general assembly shall have been filed by the governor in the office of the secretary of state. The proposed law shall be submitted in the form demanded by such supplementary petition, which form shall be either as first petitioned for or with any amendment or amendments which may have been incorporated therein by either branch or by both branches, of the general assembly. If a proposed law so submitted is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, it shall be the law and shall go into effect as herein provided in lieu of any amended form of said law which ~~may have been~~ passed by the general assembly, and such amended law passed by the general assembly shall not go into effect until and unless the law proposed by supplementary petition shall have been rejected by the electors. All such initiative petitions, last above described, shall have printed across the top thereof, in case of proposed laws: "Law Proposed by Initiative Petition First to be Submitted to the General Assembly." Ballots shall be so printed as to permit an affirmative or negative vote upon each measure submitted to the electors. Any proposed law or amendment to the constitution submitted to the electors as provided in section 1a and section 1b, if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, shall take effect thirty days after the election at which it was approved and shall be published by the secretary of state. If conflicting proposed laws or conflicting proposed amendments to the constitution shall be approved at the same election by a majority of the total number of votes cast for and against the same, the one receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall be the law, or in the case of amendments to the constitution shall be the amendment to the constitution. No law proposed by initiative petition and approved by the electors shall be subject to the veto of the governor.

SEC. 1c. The second aforesated power reserved by the people is designated the referendum, and the signatures of six per centum of the electors shall be required upon a petition to order the submission to the electors of the state for their approval or rejection, of any law, section of any law or any item in any law appropriating money passed by the general assembly. No law passed by the general assembly shall go into effect until ninety days after it shall have been filed by the governor in the office of the secretary of state, except as herein provided. When a petition, signed by six per centum of the electors of the state and verified as herein provided, shall have been filed with the secretary of state within ninety days after any law shall have been filed by the governor in the office of the secretary of state, ordering that such law, section of such law or any item in such law appropriating money be submitted to the electors of the state for their approval or rejection, the secretary of state shall submit to the electors of the state for their approval or rejection such law, section or item, in the manner herein provided, at the next succeeding regular or general election in any year occurring subsequent to sixty days after the filing of such petition, and no such law, section or item shall go into effect until and unless approved by a majority of those voting upon the same. If, however, a referendum petition is filed against any such section or item, the remainder of the law shall not thereby be prevented or delayed from going into effect.

SEC. 1d. Laws providing for tax levies, appropriations for the current expenses of the state government and state institutions, and emergency laws necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, shall go into immediate effect. Such emergency laws upon a ye and nay vote must receive the vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each branch of the general assembly, and the reasons for such necessity shall be set forth in one section of the law, which section shall be passed only upon a ye and nay vote, upon a separate roll call thereon. The laws mentioned in this section shall not be subject to the referendum.

SEC. 1e. The powers defined herein as the "initiative" and "referendum" shall not be used to pass a law authorizing any classification of property for the purpose of levying different rates of taxation thereon or of authorizing the levy of any single tax on land or land values or land sites at a higher rate or by a different rule than is or may be applied to improvements therein or to personal property.

SEC. 1f. The initiative and referendum powers are hereby reserved to the people of each municipality on all questions which such municipalities may now or hereafter be authorized by law to control by legislative action; such powers shall be exercised in the manner now or hereafter provided by law.

SEC. 1g. Any initiative, supplementary or referendum petition may be presented in separate parts but each part shall contain a full and correct copy of the title, and text of the law, section or item thereof sought to be referred, or the proposed law or proposed amendment to the constitution. Each signer of any initiative, supplementary or referendum petition must be an elector of the state and shall place on such petition after his name the date of signing and his place of residence. A signer residing outside of a municipality shall state the township and county in which he resides. A resident of a municipality shall state in addition to the name of such municipality, the street and number, if any, of his residence and the ward and precinct in which the same is located. The names of all signers to such petitions shall be written in ink, each signer for himself. To each part of such petition shall be attached the affidavit of the person soliciting the signatures to the same, which affidavit shall contain a statement of the number of the signers of such part of such petition and shall state that each of the signatures attached to such part was made in the presence of the affiant, that to the best of his knowledge and belief, each signature on such part is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be, that he believes the persons who have signed it to be electors, that they so signed said petition with knowledge of the contents thereof, that each signer signed the same on the date stated opposite his name; and no other affidavit thereto shall be required. The petition and signatures upon such petitions, so verified, shall be presumed to be in all respects sufficient, unless not later than forty days before the election, it shall be otherwise proved and in such event ten additional days shall be allowed for the filing of additional signatures to such petition. No law or amendment to the constitution submitted to the electors by initiative and supplementary petition and receiving an affirmative majority of the votes cast thereon, shall be held unconstitutional or void on account of the insufficiency of the petitions by which such submission of the same was procured; nor shall the rejection of any law submitted by referendum petition be held invalid for such insufficiency. Upon all initiative, supplementary and referendum petitions provided for in any of the sections of this article, it shall be necessary to file from each of one-half of the counties of the state, petitions bearing the signatures of not less than one-half of the designated percentage of the electors of such county. A true copy of all laws or proposed laws or proposed amendments to the constitution, together with an argument or explanation, or both, for, and also an argument or explanation, or both, against the same, shall be prepared. The person or persons who prepare the argument or explanation, or both, against any law, section or item, submitted to the electors by referendum petition, may be named in such petition and the persons who prepare the argument or explanation, or both, for any proposed law or proposed amendment to the constitution may be named in the petition proposing the same. The person or persons who prepare the argument or explanation, or both, for the law, section or item, submitted to the electors by referendum petition, or against any proposed law submitted by supplementary petition, shall be named by the general assembly, if in session, and if not in session then by the governor. The secretary of state shall cause to be printed the law, or proposed law, or proposed amendment to the constitution, together with the arguments and explanations, not exceeding a total of three hundred words for each, and also the arguments and explanations, not exceeding a total of three hundred words against each, and shall mail, or otherwise distribute, a copy of such law or proposed law, or proposed amendment to the constitution, together with such arguments and explanations for and against the same to each of the electors of the state, as far as may be reasonably possible. Unless otherwise provided by law, the secretary of state shall cause to be placed upon the ballots, the title of any such law, or proposed law, or proposed amendment to the constitution, to be submitted. He shall also cause the ballots so to be printed as to permit an affirmative or negative vote upon each law, section of law, or item in a law appropriating money, or proposed law, or proposed amendment to the constitution. The style of all laws submitted by initiative and supplementary petition shall be: "Be it Enacted by the People of the State of Ohio," and of all constitutional amendments: "Be It Resolved by the People of the State of Ohio." The basis upon which the required number of petitioners in any case shall be determined shall be the total number of votes cast for the office of governor at the last preceding election therefor. The fore-going provisions of this section shall be self-executing, except as herein otherwise provided. Laws may be passed to facilitate their operation, but in no way limiting or restricting either such provisions or the powers herein reserved.

SEC. 2. Senators and representatives shall be elected biennially by the electors of the respective counties or districts, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November; their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next thereafter, and continue two years.

SEC. 3. Senators and representatives shall have resided in their respective counties, or districts, one year next preceding their election, unless they shall have been absent on the public business of the United States, or of this state.

SEC. 4. No person holding office under the authority of the United States, or any lucrative office under the authority of this state, shall be eligible to, or have a seat in, the general assembly; but this provision shall not extend to township officers, justices of the peace, notaries public, or officers of the militia.

SEC. 5. No person hereafter convicted of an embezzlement of the public funds, shall hold any office in this state; nor shall any person, holding public money for disbursement, or otherwise, have a seat in the general assembly, until he shall have accounted for, and paid such money into the treasury.

SEC. 6. Each house shall be judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its own members; a majority of all the members elected to each house shall be a quorum to do business; but a less number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 7. The mode of organizing the house of representatives, at the commencement of each regular session, shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 8. Each house, except as otherwise provided in this constitution, shall choose its own officers, may determine its own rules of proceeding, punish its members for disorderly conduct; and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member, but not the second time for the same cause; and shall have all powers, necessary to provide for its safety and the undisturbed transaction of its business, and to obtain, through committees or otherwise, information affecting legislative action under consideration or in contemplation, or with reference to any alleged breach of its privileges or misconduct of its members, and to that end to enforce the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books and papers.

SEC. 9. Each house shall keep a correct journal of its proceedings, which shall be published. At the desire of any two members, the yeas and nays shall be entered upon the journal; and, on the passage of every bill, in either house, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the journal; and no law shall be passed in either house, without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected thereto.

SEC. 10. Any member of either house shall have the right to protest against any act, or resolution thereof; and such protest, and the reasons therefor, shall, without alteration, commitment, or delay, be entered upon the journal.

SEC. 11. All vacancies which may happen in either house shall, for the unexpired term, be filled by election, as shall be directed by law.

SEC. 12. Senators and representatives, during the session of the general assembly, and in going to, and returning from the same, shall be privileged from arrest, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace; and for any speech or debate, in either house, they shall not be questioned elsewhere.

SEC. 13. The proceedings of both houses shall be public, except in cases which, in the opinion of two-thirds of those present, require secrecy.

SEC. 14. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than two days, Sundays excluded; nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be in session.

SEC. 15. Bills may originate in either house; but may be altered, amended, or rejected in the other.

SEC. 16. Every bill shall be fully and distinctly read on three different days, unless in case of urgency three-fourths of the house in which it shall be pending, shall dispense with the rule. No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title, and no law shall be revived, or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, or the section or sections amended, and the section or sections so amended shall be repealed. Every bill passed by the general assembly shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor for his approval. If he approves, he shall sign it and thereupon it shall become a law and be filed with the secretary of state. If he does not approve it, he shall return it with his objections in writing, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and may then reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to that house vote to repass the bill, it shall be sent, with the objections of the governor, to the other house, which may also reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to that house vote to repass it, it shall become a law notwithstanding the objections of the governor, except that in no case shall a bill be repassed by a smaller vote than is required by the constitution on its original passage. In all such cases the vote of each house shall be determined by yeas and nays and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered upon the journal. If a bill shall not be returned by the governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after being presented to him, it shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the general assembly by adjournment prevents its return; in which case, it shall become a law unless, within ten days after such adjournment, it shall be filed by him, with his objections in writing, in the office of the secretary of state. The governor may disapprove any item or items in any bill making an appropriation of money and the item or items, so disapproved, shall be void, unless repassed in the manner herein prescribed for the repassage of a bill.

SEC. 17. The presiding officer of each house shall sign, publicly in the presence of the house over which he presides, while the same is in session, and capable of transacting business, all bills and joint resolutions passed by the general assembly.

SEC. 22. No money shall be drawn from the treasury, except in pursuance of a specific appropriation, made by law; and no appropriation shall be made for a longer period than two years.

SEC. 23. The house of representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, but a majority of the members elected must concur therein. Impeachments shall be tried by the senate; and the senators, when sitting for that purpose, shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to law and evidence. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the senators.

SEC. 24. The governor, judges, and all state officers, may be impeached for any misdemeanor in office; but judgment shall not extend further than removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office under the authority of this state. The party impeached, whether convicted or not, shall be liable to indictment, trial, and judgment, according to law.

SEC. 25. All regular sessions of the general assembly shall commence on the first Monday of January, biennially. The first session, under this constitution, shall commence on the first Monday of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

SEC. 26. All laws, of a general nature, shall have a uniform operation throughout the state; nor, shall any act, except such as relates to public schools, be passed, to take effect upon the approval of any other authority than the general assembly, except, as otherwise provided in this constitution.

SEC. 27. The election and appointment of all officers, and the filling of all vacancies, not otherwise provided for by this constitution, or the constitution of the United States, shall be made in such manner as may be directed by law; but no appointing power shall be exercised by the general assembly, except as prescribed in this Constitution, and in the election of United States senators; and in these cases the vote shall be taken " viva voce ."

SEC. 28. The general assembly shall have no power to pass retroactive laws, or laws impairing the obligation of contracts; but may, by general laws, authorize courts to carry into effect, upon such terms as shall be just and equitable, the manifest intention of parties, and officers, by curing omissions, defects, and errors, in instruments and proceedings, arising out of their want of conformity with the laws of this state.

SEC. 29. No extra compensation shall be made to any officer, public agent, or contractor, after the service shall have been rendered, or the contract entered into; nor shall any money be paid, on any claim, the subject matter of which shall not have been provided for by pre-existing law, unless such compensation, or claim, be allowed by two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the general assembly.

SEC. 30. No new county shall contain less than four hundred square miles of territory, nor shall any county be reduced below that amount; and all laws creating new counties, changing county lines, or removing county seats, shall, before taking effect, be submitted to the electors of the several counties to be affected thereby, at the next general election after the passage thereof, and be adopted by a majority of all the electors voting at such election, in each of said counties; but any county now or hereafter containing one hundred thousand inhabitants, may be divided, whenever a majority of the voters residing in each of the proposed divisions shall approve of the law passed for that purpose; but no town or city within the same shall be divided, nor shall either of the divisions contain less than twenty thousand inhabitants.

SEC. 31. The members and officers of the general assembly shall receive a fixed compensation, to be prescribed by law, and no other allowance or perquisites, either in the payment of postage or otherwise; and no change in their compensation shall take effect during their term of office.

SEC. 32. The general assembly shall grant no divorce, nor exercise any judicial power not herein expressly conferred.

SEC. 33. Laws may be passed to secure to mechanics, artisans, laborers, sub-contractors and material men, their just dues by direct lien upon the property, upon which they have bestowed labor or for which they have furnished material. No other provision of the constitution shall impair or limit this power.

Laws may be passed establishing a board which may be empowered to classify all occupations, according to their degree of hazard, to fix rates of contribution to such fund according to such classification, and to collect, administer and distribute such fund, and to determine all rights of claimants thereto.

SEC. 36. Laws may be passed to encourage forestry, and to that end areas devoted exclusively to forestry may be exempted, in whole or in part, from taxation. Laws may also be passed to provide for converting into forest reserves such lands or parts of lands as have been or may be forfeited to the state, and to authorize the acquiring of other lands for that purpose; also, to provide for the conservation of the natural resources of the state, including streams, lakes, submerged and swamp lands and the development and regulation of water power and the formation of drainage and conservation districts; and to provide for the regulation of methods of mining, weighing, measuring and marketing coal, oil, gas and all other minerals.

SEC. 38. Laws shall be passed providing for the prompt removal from office, upon complaint and hearing, of all officers, including state officers, judges and members of the general assembly, for any misconduct involving moral turpitude or for other cause provided by law; and this method of removal shall be in addition to impeachment or other method of removal authorized by the constitution.

The person having the highest number of votes shall be declared duly elected; but if any two or more shall be highest, and equal in votes, for the same office, one of them shall be chosen by the joint vote of both houses.

SEC. 4. Should there be no session of the general assembly in January next after an election for any of the officers aforesaid, the returns of such election shall be made to the secretary of state, and opened, and the result declared by the governor, in such manner as may be provided by law.

SEC. 5. The supreme executive power of this state shall be vested in the governor.

SEC. 6. He may require information, in writing, from the officers in the executive department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices; and shall see that the laws are faithfully executed.

SEC. 7. He shall communicate at every session, by message, to the general assembly, the condition of the state, and recommend such measures as he shall deem expedient.

SEC. 8. The governor on extraordinary occasions may convene the general assembly by proclamation and shall state in the proclamation the purpose for which such special session is called, and no other business shall be transacted at such special session except that named in the proclamation, or in a subsequent public proclamation or message to the general assembly issued by the governor during said special session, but the general assembly may provide for the expenses of the session and other matters incidental thereto.

SEC. 9. In case of disagreement between the two houses, in respect to the time of adjournment, he shall have power to adjourn the general assembly to such time as he may think proper, but not beyond the regular meetings thereof.

SEC. 10. He shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States.

SEC. 11. Upon conviction for treason, he may suspend the execution of the sentence, and report the case to the general assembly, at its next meeting, when the general assembly shall either pardon, commute the sentence, direct its execution, or grant a further reprieve. He shall communicate to the general assembly, at every regular session, each case of reprieve, commutation, or pardon granted, stating the name and crime of the convict, the sentence, its date, and the date of the commutation, pardon, or reprieve, with his reasons therefor.

SEC. 12. There shall be a seal of the state, which shall be kept by the governor, and used by him officially; and shall be called "The Great Seal of the State of Ohio."

SEC. 13. All grants and commissions shall be issued in the name, and by the authority, of the state of Ohio; sealed with the great seal; signed by the governor, and countersigned by the secretary of state.

SEC. 17. If the lieutenant governor, while executing the office of governor, shall be impeached, displaced, resign or die, or otherwise become incapable of performing the duties of the office, the president of the senate shall act as governor, until the vacancy is filled, or the disability removed; and if the president of the senate, for any of the above causes, shall be rendered incapable of performing the duties pertaining to the office of governor, the same shall devolve upon the speaker of the house of representatives.

SEC. 18. Should the office of auditor, treasurer, secretary, or attorney general, become vacant, for any of the causes specified in the fifteenth section of this article, the governor shall fill the vacancy until the disability is removed, or a successor elected and qualified. Every such vacancy shall be filled by election, at the first general election that occurs more than thirty days after it shall have happened; and the person chosen shall hold office for the full term fixed in the second section of this article.

SEC. 19. The officers mentioned in this article shall, at stated times, receive for their services, a compensation to be established by law, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which they shall have been elected.

SEC. 20. The officers of the executive department, and of the public state institutions, shall, at least five days preceding each regular session of the general assembly, severally report to the governor, who shall transmit such reports, with his message to the general assembly.

ARTICLE IV.

Judicial.

SEC. 1. The judicial power of the state is vested in a supreme court, courts of appeals, courts of common pleas, courts of probate, and such other courts inferior to the courts of appeals as may from time to time be established by law.

SEC. 2. The supreme court shall, until otherwise provided by law, consist of a chief justice and six judges, and the judges now in office in that court shall continue therein until the end of the terms for which they were respectively elected, unless they are removed, die or resign. A majority of the supreme court shall be necessary to constitute a quorum or to pronounce a decision, except as hereinafter provided. It shall have original jurisdiction in quo warranto, mandamus, habeas corpus, prohibition and procedendo, and appellate jurisdiction in all cases involving questions arising under the constitution of the United States or of this state, in cases of felony on leave first obtained, and in cases which originated in the courts of appeals, and such revisory jurisdiction of the proceedings of administrative officers as may be conferred by law. It shall hold at least one term in each year at the seat of government, and such other terms, there or elsewhere, as may be provided by law. The judges of the supreme court shall be elected by the electors of the state at large for such term, not less than six years, as may be prescribed by law, and they shall be elected, and their official term shall begin, at such time as may now or hereafter be fixed by law. Whenever the judges of the supreme court shall be equally divided in opinion as to the merits of any case before them and are unable for that reason to agree upon a judgment, that fact shall be entered upon the record and such entry shall be held to constitute an affirmation of the judgment of the court below. No law shall be held unconstitutional and void by the supreme court without the concurrence of at least all but one of the judges, except in the affirmation of a judgment of the court of appeals declaring a law unconstitutional and void. In cases of public or great general interest the supreme court may, within such limitation of time as may be prescribed by law, direct any court of appeals to certify its record to the supreme court, and may review, and affirm, modify or reverse the judgment of the court of appeals. All cases pending in the supreme court at the time of the adoption of this amendment by the people, shall proceed to judgment in the manner provided by existing law. No law shall be passed or rule made whereby any person shall be prevented from invoking the original jurisdiction of the supreme court.

SEC. 3. One resident judge of the court of common pleas, and such additional resident judge or judges as may be provided by law, shall be elected in each county of the state by the electors of such county; and as many courts or sessions of the court of common pleas as are necessary, may be held at the same time in any county. Any judge of the court of common pleas may temporarily preside and hold court in any county; and until the general assembly shall make adequate provision therefor, the chief justice of the supreme court of the state shall pass upon the disqualification or disability of any judge of the court of common pleas, and he may assign any judge to any county to hold court therein.

SEC. 4. The jurisdiction of the courts of common pleas, and of the judges thereof shall be fixed by law.

SEC. 5. [Repealed October 9, 1883; 80 v. 382.]

SEC. 6. The state shall be divided into appellate districts of compact territory bounded by county lines, in each of which there shall be a court of appeals consisting of three judges, and until altered by law the circuits in which circuit courts are now held shall constitute the appellate districts aforesaid. The judges of the circuit courts now residing in their respective districts shall be the judges of the respective courts of appeals in such districts and perform the duties thereof until the expiration of their respective terms of office. Vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of office of the judges of the courts of appeals shall be filled by the electors of the respective appellate districts in which such vacancies shall arise. Until otherwise provided by law the term of office of such judge shall be six years. Laws may be passed to prescribe the time and mode of such election and to alter the number of districts or the boundaries thereof, but no such change shall abridge the term of any judge then in office. The court of appeals shall hold at least one term annually in each county in the district and such other terms at a county seat in the district as the judges may determine upon, and the county commissioners of any county in which the court of appeals shall hold sessions shall make proper and convenient provisions for the holding of such court by its judges and officers. Each judge shall be competent to exercise judicial powers in any appellate district of the state. The courts of appeals shall continue the work of the respective circuit courts and all pending cases and proceedings in the circuit courts shall proceed to judgment and be determined by the respective courts of appeals, and the supreme court, as now provided by law, and cases brought into said courts of appeals after the taking effect hereof shall be subject to the provisions hereof, and the circuit courts shall be merged into, and their work continued by, the courts of appeals. The courts of appeals shall have original jurisdiction in quo warranto, mandamus, habeas corpus, prohibition and procedendo, and appellate jurisdiction in the trial of chancery cases, and, to review, affirm, modify, or reverse the judgments of the courts of common pleas, superior courts and other courts of record within the district as may be provided by law, and judgments of the courts of appeals shall be final in all cases, except cases involving questions arising under the constitution of the United States or of this state, cases of felony, cases of which it has original jurisdiction, and cases of public or great general interest in which the supreme court may direct any court of appeals to certify its record to that court. No judgment of a court of common pleas, a superior court or other court of record shall be reversed except by the concurrence of all the judges of the court of appeals on the weight of the evidence, and by a majority of such court of appeals upon other questions; and whenever the judges of a court of appeals find that a judgment upon which they have agreed is in conflict with a judgment pronounced upon the same question by any other court of appeals of the state, the judges shall certify the record of the case to the supreme court for review and final determination. The decisions in all cases in the supreme court shall be reported, together with the reasons therefor, and laws may be passed providing for the reporting of cases in the courts of appeals. The chief justice of the supreme court of the state shall determine the disability or disqualification of any judge of the courts of appeals and he may assign any judge of the courts of appeals to any county to hold court.

SEC. 7. There shall be established in each county, a probate court, which shall be a court of record, open at all times, and holden by one judge, elected by the electors of the county, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and shall receive such compensation, payable out of the county treasury, as shall be provided by law. Whenever ten per centum of the number of the electors voting for governor at the next preceding election in any county having less than sixty thousand population as determined by the next preceding federal census, shall petition the judge of the court of common pleas of any such county not less than ninety days before any general election for county officers, the judge of the court of common pleas shall submit to the electors of such county the question of combining the probate court with the court of common pleas, and such courts shall be combined and shall be known as the court of common pleas in case a majority of the electors voting upon such question vote in favor of such combination. Notice of such election shall be given in the same manner as for the election of county officers. Elections may be had in the same manner for the separation of such courts, when once combined.

SEC. 8. The probate court shall have jurisdiction in probate and testamentary matters, the appointment of administrators and guardians, the settlement of the accounts of executors, administrators, and guardians, and such jurisdiction in habeas corpus, the issuing of marriage licenses and for the sale of land by executors, administrators, and guardians, and such other jurisdiction, in any county or counties, as may be provided by law.

SEC. 9. [Repealed September 3, 1912.]

SEC. 10. All judges, other than those provided for in this constitution, shall be elected by the electors of the judicial district for which they may be created, but not for a longer term of office than five years.

SEC. 11. [Repealed October 9, 1883; 80 v. 382.]

Where the traffic is or may be prohibited under laws applying to counties, municipalities, townships, residence districts, or other districts now prescribed by law, the traffic shall not be licensed in any such local sub-division while any prohibitory law is operative therein, and nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to repeal, modify or suspend any such prohibitory laws, or any regulatory laws now in force or hereafter enacted, or to prevent the future enactment, modification or repeal of any prohibitory or regulatory laws. License to traffic in intoxicating liquors shall not be granted to any person who at the time of making application therefor is not a citizen of the United States and of good moral character. License shall not be granted to any applicant who is in any way interested in the business conducted at any other place where intoxicating liquors are sold or kept for sale as a beverage nor shall such license be granted unless the applicant or applicants are the only persons in any way pecuniary interested in the business for which the license is sought and no other person shall be in any way interested therein during the continuance of the license; if such interest of such person shall appear, the license shall be deemed revoked. If any licensee is more than once convicted for a violation of the laws in force to regulate the traffic in intoxicating liquors, his license shall be deemed revoked, and no license shall thereafter be granted to him. License to traffic in intoxicating liquors shall not be granted unless the place of traffic under such license shall be located in the county in which the person or persons reside whose duty it is to grant such license, or in a county adjoining thereto. The word "saloon" as used in this section is defined to be a place where intoxicating liquors are sold, or kept for sale, as a beverage in quantities less than one gallon.

At said election a ballot shall be in the following form :

Intoxicating Liquors.

| | Against License to traffic in intoxicating liquors. |

The voter shall indicate his choice by placing a cross-mark within the blank space opposite the words "For License," if he desires to vote in favor of the article above mentioned and opposite the words "Against License," within the blank space if he desires to vote against said article. If a cross-mark is placed opposite both phrases or neither phrase, then the vote upon the subject shall not be counted.

If the votes for license shall exceed the votes against license, then the article above mentioned shall become section 9 of article XV of the constitution, and the present section 9 of said article, also known as section 18 of the schedule shall be repealed.

SEC. 10. Appointments and promotions in the civil service of the state, the several counties, and cities, shall be made according to merit and fitness, to be ascertained, as far as practicable, by competitive examinations. Laws shall be passed providing for the enforcement of this provision.

ARTICLE XVI.

Amendments.

SEC. 1. Either branch of the general assembly may propose amendments to this constitution; and, if the same shall be agreed to by three-fifths of the members elected to each house, such proposed amendments shall be entered on the journals, with the yeas and nays, and shall be submitted to the electors, for their approval or rejection, on a separate ballot without party designation of any kind, at either a special or a general election as the general assembly may prescribe. Such proposed amendments shall be published once a week for five consecutive weeks preceding such election, in at least one newspaper in each county of the state, where a newspaper is published. If the majority of the electors voting on the same shall adopt such amendments the same shall become a part of the constitution. When more than one amendment shall be submitted at the same time, they shall be so submitted as to enable the electors to vote on each amendment, separately.

SEC. 2. Whenever two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the general assembly, shall think it necessary to call a convention, to revise, amend, or change this constitution, they shall recommend to the electors to vote on a separate ballot without party designation of any kind at the next election for members to the general assembly, for or against a convention; and if a majority of all the electors, voting for and against the calling of a convention, shall have voted for a convention, the general assembly shall, at their next session, provide, by law, for calling the same. Candidates for members of the constitutional convention shall be nominated by nominating petitions only and shall be voted for upon one independent and separate ballot without any emblem or party designation whatever. The convention shall consist of as many members as the house of representatives, who shall be chosen as provided by law, and shall meet within three months after their election, for the purpose, aforesaid.

SEC. 3. At the general election to be held in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and in each twentieth year thereafter, the question: "Shall there be a convention to revise, alter, or amend the constitution", shall be submitted to the electors of the state; and in case a majority of the electors, voting for and against the calling of a convention, shall decide in favor of a convention, the general assembly, at its next session, shall provide, by law, for the election of delegates, and the assembling of such convention, as is provided in the preceding section; but no amendment of this constitution, agreed upon by any convention assembled in pursuance of this article, shall take effect, until the same shall have been submitted to the electors of the state, and adopted by a majority of those voting thereon.

The term of office of justices of the peace shall be such even number of years not exceeding four (4) years, as may be prescribed by the general assembly. The term of office of the members of the board of public works shall be such even number of years not exceeding six (6) years as may be so prescribed; and the term of office of all elective county, township, municipal and school officers shall be such even number of years not exceeding four (4) years as may be so prescribed.

And the general assembly shall have power to so extend existing terms of office as to affect the purpose of section 1 of this article.

Any vacancy which may occur in any elective state office other than that of a member of the general assembly or of governor, shall be filled by appointment by the governor until the disability is removed, or a successor elected and qualified. Every such vacancy shall be filled by election at the first general election for the office which is vacant, that occurs more than thirty (30) days after the vacancy shall have occurred. The person elected shall fill the office for the unexpired term. All vacancies in other elective offices shall be filled for the unexpired term in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 3. Every elective officer holding office when this amendment is adopted, shall continue to hold such office for the full term for which he was elected, and until his successor shall be elected and qualified as provided by law.

ARTICLE XVIII.

SEC. 1. Municipal corporations are hereby classified into cities and villages. All such corporations having a population of five thousand or over shall be cities; all others shall be villages. The method of transition from one class to the other shall be regulated by law.

SEC. 2. General laws shall be passed to provide for the incorporation and government of cities and villages; and additional laws may also be passed for the government of municipalities adopting the same; but no such additional law shall become operative in any municipality until it shall have been submitted to the electors thereof, and affirmed by a majority of those voting thereon, under regulations to be established by law.

SEC. 3. Municipalities shall have authority to exercise all powers of local self-government and to adopt and enforce within their limits such local police, sanitary and other similar regulations, as are not in conflict with general laws.

SEC. 4. Any municipality may acquire, construct, own, lease and operate within or without its corporate limits, any public utility the product or service of which is or is to be supplied to the municipality or its inhabitants, and may contract with others for any such product or service. The acquisition of any such public utility may be by condemnation or otherwise, and a municipality may acquire thereby the use of, or full title to, the property and franchise of any company or person supplying to the municipality or its inhabitants the service or product of any such utility.

SEC. 5. Any municipality proceeding to acquire, construct, own, lease or operate a public utility, or to contract with any person or company therefor, shall act by ordinance and no such ordinance shall take effect until after thirty days from its passage. If within said thirty days a petition signed by ten per centum of the electors of the municipality shall be filed with the executive authority thereof demanding a referendum on such ordinance it shall not take effect until submitted to the electors and approved by a majority of those voting thereon. The submission of any such question shall be governed by all the provisions of section 8 of this article as to the submission of the question of choosing a charter commission.

SEC. 6. Any municipality, owning or operating a public utility for the purpose of supplying the service or product thereof to the municipality or its inhabitants, may also sell and deliver to others any transportation service of such utility and the surplus product of any other utility in an amount not exceeding in either case fifty per centum of the total service or product supplied by such utility within the municipality.

SEC. 7. Any municipality may frame and adopt or amend a charter for its government and may, subject to the provisions of section 3 of this article, exercise thereunder all powers of local self-government.

SEC. 8. The legislative authority of any city or village may by a two-thirds vote of its members, and upon petition of ten per centum of the electors shall forthwith, provide by ordinance for the submission to the electors, of the question, "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter". The ordinance providing for the submission of such question shall require that it be submitted to the electors at the next regular municipal election if one shall occur not less than sixty nor more than one hundred and twenty days after its passage; otherwise it shall provide for the submission of the question at a special election to be called and held within the time aforesaid. The ballot containing such question shall bear no party designation, and provision shall be made thereon for the election from the municipality at large of fifteen electors who shall constitute a commission to frame a charter; provided that a majority of the electors voting on such question shall have voted in the affirmative. Any charter so framed shall be submitted to the electors of the municipality at an election to be held at a time fixed by the charter commission and within one year from the date of its election, provision for which shall be made by the legislative authority of the municipality in so far as not prescribed by general law. Not less than thirty days prior to such election the clerk of the municipality shall mail a copy of the proposed charter to each elector whose name appears upon the poll or registration books of the last regular or general election held therein. If such proposed charter is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon it shall become the charter of such municipality at the time fixed therein.

SEC. 9. Amendments to any charter framed and adopted as herein provided may be submitted to the electors of a municipality by a two-thirds vote of the legislative authority thereof, and, upon petitions signed by ten per centum of the electors of the municipality setting forth any such proposed amendment, shall be submitted by such legislative authority. The submission of proposed amendments to the electors shall be governed by the requirements of section 8 as to the submission of the question of choosing a charter commission; and copies of proposed amendments shall be mailed to the electors as hereinbefore provided for copies of a proposed charter. If any such amendment is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, it shall become a part of the charter of the municipality. A copy of said charter or any amendment thereto shall be certified to the secretary of state, within thirty days after adoption by a referendum vote.

SEC. 10. Bonds may be issued to supply the funds in whole or in part to pay for the excess property so appropriated or otherwise acquired, but said bonds shall be a lien only against the property so acquired for the improvement and excess, and they shall not be a liability of the municipality nor be included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality prescribed by law.

SEC. 11. Any municipality appropriating private property for a public improvement may provide money therefor in part by assessments upon benefited property not in excess of the special benefits conferred upon such property by the improvements. Said assessments, however, upon all the abutting, adjacent, and other property in the district benefited, shall in no case be levied for more than fifty per centum of the cost of such appropriation.

SEC. 12. Any municipality which acquires, constructs or extends any public utility and desires to raise money for such purposes may issue mortgage bonds therefor beyond the general limit of bonded indebtedness prescribed by law; provided that such mortgage bonds issued beyond the general limit of bonded indebtedness prescribed by law shall not impose any liability upon such municipality but shall be secured only upon the property and revenues of such public utility, including a franchise stating the terms upon which, in case of foreclosure, the purchaser may operate the same, which franchise shall in no case extend for a longer period than twenty years from the date of the sale of such utility and franchise on foreclosure.

DUTIES OF THE COURT.

Decisions of contested cases in the collection of customs duties have been in great confusion for several years. It has been exceedingly difficult for the law officers of the Government to obtain consistent interpretations of the various provisions of the tariff law as applied to specific articles. It is believed that by concentrating the responsibility for deciding such cases in a single judicial body much of the confusion that arises from these variations of interpretation will be removed. The new court will decide all contested cases without appeal, except on questions of constitutionality.
